Do you get just one chance in your life to find a love that's yours completely I've made only one mistake in my life the day I let you leave me

And if I search the whole world over
I'll never find a love so right

Hang on to love when your find it
Never waste your golden chances
Never make mistakes like I did
Hang on to your love, and never let go

Just to think I had the world in my hands and I let it slip through my fingers
I guess I didn't know what I had
It's just a memory that lingers

And it's too late to say I'm sorry
I looked around, and she was gone

Hang on to love when your find it
Never waste your golden chances
Never make mistakes like I did
Hang on to your love, and never let go

And never let
And if I search the whole world over
I'll never find a love so right

Hang on to love when your find it
Never waste your golden chances
Never make mistakes like I did
Hang on to your love, and never let go

Hang on like there's no tomorrow
Always be there when she calls you
There's a path that you should follow
Hang on to your love, and never let go

Hang on to love when your find it

Never waste your golden chances
Never make mistakes like I did
Hang on to your love, and never let go
