"Rise"

Visit "Rise" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a man and he's just standing
Still right where we left off
He's just holding what they told him
Time to pick it up, time's a cost

He's not alone he's not the only
One who's thinking there's something else
There's all these people, there's always people
And that's just what it takes to find more of ourselves

Chorus:
Standing still, standing still is slowly dying
Moving on, moving on is the point in time
Together, together we're gonna rise

We can't wait for what we came for
There's no place for us to hide
So take it easy or take it harder
But take it farther down the line

(Chorus)
