"Little Island"

You wear your nightgown, I'll wear my rainsuit
Diamond-studded rainsuit to that little island
You'll never find me, scattered in droplets
You'll never find me in the rain, ooh

You always get me, pour me out like water Oh and you tell me it feels so good when I wash your hair

Oh come next morning, our wicker basket
Heavy with pearls that I have collected
In hopes you'll wear them to our grand wedding
Oh ask the songbirds in to sing the chorus of strings
