Your eyes are made of wild blue sky
Your smile is like the sun, shining down for everyone to see
Graceful as a butterfly, dancing on the wind
More beautiful than anything should be

You're my wild flower, pretty little wild flower
Sweet, sweet wild flower
Why did you pick me to give your love to?
Why did you pick me to give your love to?

Baby when you found me, I was lost as I could be Like a river going nowhere all alone
You took away the black and white put color in my world
In ways that you don't even know

You're my wild flower, pretty little wild flower
Sweet, sweet wild flower
Why did you pick me to give your love to?
Why did you pick me to give your love to?

I just wanna be around you
'Cause when I am, babe, I feel free

You're my wild flower, pretty little wild flower
Sweet, sweet wild flower
Why did you pick me to give your love to?
Why did you pick me to give your love to?
