I don't claim to be John Wayne
Ridin' across that silver screen
I ain't that picture in your head all
These modern day wanna-be's
I'm just proud that I can say
I don't wear this hat for show or fame
And if you don't like who I am
You got momma daddy and good Lord to blame,
amen.
I'm a straight up no joking buck knife gun totting give you the shirt off my back.
Well I'm up at the crack of dawn work till the suns gone.
I ain't got time for no crap.
No in not one of them posing pretty boys.
I'm an every day all the way 100% cowboy.
I've always tuck my shirt in,
I've creased my old blue jeans,
And I don't do it cause it's who somebody said I outta be.
Yea when I'm layin' in that old pine box
And all my family is gathered around They'll say "there goes a dying breed six feet in the ground"
I'm a straight up no joking buck knife gun totting give
you the shirt off my back.
Well I'm up at the crack of dawn work till the suns gone.
I ain't got time for no crap.
No in not one of them posing pretty boys.
I'm an every day all the way 100% cowboy.
Well I'm not one of them posing pretty boys.
I'm an every day all the way cowboy, I'm a cowboy.
I said I'm a cowboy.
100% cowboy. Just like Chris Ledoux, YEA I'm a cowboy
