

Jason Michael Carroll "Lookin' At You"

Visit "Lookin' At You" on MotoLyrics.com

I was 16, drivin' my old man's car
The light was red but I ran right through
And I killed a mailbox and some flowers in a yard
'Cause I was lookin' at you

I was sittin' in the stands it was the bottom of the ninth
The score was tied 2 to 2
When a foul ball hit me right between the eyes
'Cause I was lookin' at you

Well, some people like starin' at the sunset
And some prefer a tropical view
And some like gazin' at the stars and the moon
But I like lookin' at you

Yeah, some things in this world might have passed me by
And I might have missed a chance or two
But you won't find any regret in my eyes
'Cause I'm still lookin' at you

Well, some people like starin' at the sunset
And some prefer a tropical view
And some like gazin' at the stars and the moon
But I like lookin' at you

Baby, in my heart I know
There's nothin' as beautiful as you

Yeah, some people like starin' at the sunset
And some prefer a tropical view
And some like gazin' at the stars and the moon
But I like lookin' at you

Yeah, some people like starin' at the sunset
And some prefer a tropical view
And some like gazin' at the stars and the moon
But I like lookin' at you

Visit Jason Michael Carroll page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

