Something like "I apologize"
Something I still can't decide

But it only gets better
It only gets better

And I want to say that it's not always easy - but it's simple that way and I want to stay and play it out, but i still have my doubts

So you say it gets better
It only gets better

Beautiful things can never stay the same way
Oh they pass, oh they pass away they always change

But who are we is who we are and the act of love can get us so far
So good I wish you would think twice on me

It only gets better
It only gets better
You'll see and promise me you'll only be better
