when daddy sings
hes an auctioneer, auctioneer.
and mother clings to anniversaries.
and his sister, shes got a little bit of mister in her and her brothers goin round, round, round his bed and i said, and i say I say, well believe what i say i said, did i, did i, fool ya, fool ya
well didnt daddy fool ya?
he sang once and a goin twice hes gone for 35 or 40
and he go, once and a goin twice hes gone for 35... SOLD to the middle line.
they go once and a goin twice
and aint it nice?
and oh lord they made it up to 65
they go once and a goin twice and aint it nice? aint it nice oh aint it nice?
... said aint it nice for the price?
i said i got a nice life for the price is right body rock, rody bock
and they boss, said a come on down, down, down said come on down.
youre the next big winner
so come on down
oh oh oh
but i, but i, i said i i give and give and i lay it all down now well look what ive found i give and give i said i give and give and i lay it all down now look what ive found, ah look what ive found blue skies, theyre smiling at me and thats my favorite melody.
but i cant read and i cant read and i cant read between the things unseen and i dont mind and i dont mind and i dont mind if i dont find because ive tried im absolutely definite
absolutley positive
absolutely definetly positive.
im absolutely definite

absolutley positive
absolutely definetly positive
im absolutely definite
absolutley positive
absolutely definetly positive.
and im absolutely definite
absolutley positive
absolutely definetly positively represented.
so i, why why, ohma why the bother with it all?
did i, did i fool ya?
well didnt daddy fool ya?
he sang once and a goin twice, he gone
for 35 or 40
he go once and a goin twice he gone
for 45 or 50
he go once and goin twice hes gone to 55
or maybe gonna make it at 65 he go once and a goin twice and aint it, aint it nice?
oh aint it nice price wise.
cuz i got a nice life for the price.
oh lord, little boy, no more.
