Jason: "Welcome to Tuesday night.."

see when i wake up
and the day begins,
do i hold my breath
and count to ten?
or will it be
three?
we'll see, we'll see,
it depends on which day of the week

so i sing out, i sing out loud
"i'm just one
tiny motherfucker
singing proud"
singin glory,
glory
hallelu ia,
yeah, that'll do
say that'll do..

in the arms
of a city
that holds no trace of a face in the face the place of
you and me
go make a life
and not a living
singin glory,
glory
hallelu ia,
yeah, that'll do

[acoustic]

theres things to know
or so we're told
but the days they keep rollin on so the pain of playin
slow

and theres ways to grow yeah, but blow by blow
see, it all gets lost somewhere, now see i already forgot

so sing out
sing out loud
you're just another
motherfucker
singing proud
singin glory
remind me, glory,
hallelu ia
yeah, that'll do
say yeah, that'll do

see we should all keep pretending that our dreams are patent pending you should see
some of the scenes
that ive seen
and i know love
i've flown above
and beyond
but its still too long
of a wait

so i sing out
i sing out loud
see we can be 10
thousand motherfuckers
singing glory
glory
hallelu ia

i sing my stories for you
you will sing for me too
and together
we can make it through
they say when you sing
you're prayin twice
don't that sound nice?
so rise up
come on now,
and give it a try

so sing out

we can be 6
billion motherfuckers
singing proud
so sing glory
glory glory glory
hallelu ia
and yeah that'll do

this is no ordinary world
we need extraordinary glory

[acoustic]

see, that'll do
