Day's are lonely
Smile is gone
But you dream away
And the perfect start
Is a world apart
And you're walkin' through a wonderland
With your eyes closed
Did you ever think
We're really not that far

Down, down we go
But we're half way home
It's a million miles
A thousand doors
All we're really looking for
Is something to believe in

Well you wonder why
It's raining down on only you
But the sky's unclear
But I'm right here
So take my hand
Feel me close
Let's get back what matters most
It's simple things
Just you and me

Down, down we go
But we're half way home
It's a million miles
A thousand doors
All we're really looking for
Is something to believe in

Something soul that we can feel
Something pure and someone real
I don't want to be here alone
With nothing to believe in
With nothing to believe in
With nothing to believe in
With nothing to believe in

Something to believe in
Something to believe in
Something to believe in
Something to believe in
Something to believe in
