I talk about you like I know you
In conversations with myself
Your heavy heart was like a refuge
It took me in until I fell in

Cause you were like the feeling of rescue
But you can't stop running away

I remember how we met
I remember where we went
We were to afraid to talk
So we kissed instead
Under the summer rain
When did you ever change
What you promised you'd never take away
The heart you gave

I dream about you like I love you
Even though its been so long
I can't pretend I don't remember
You never wanted to be gone

Cause you were like the feeling of rescue
But you can't stop running away

I remember how we met
I remember where we went
We were to afraid to talk
So we kissed instead
Under the summer rain
When did you ever change
What you promised
You'd never take away
The heart you gave

Cause you were like the feeling of rescue

But you can't stop running away

I remember how we met
I remember where we went
We were too afraid to talk
So we kissed instead
Under the summer rain
When did you ever change
What you promised you'd never take away
The heart you gave

I talk about you like I know you
In conversations with myself
