The end is such a scary place to start
Everything is torn apart
I don't know where to go from here
In the end, there's no reason to pretend
I know you won't be back again
I gotta find a way from here

I don't know where I'll fall down
But I'm sure to hit the ground

'Cause it's not over till it's over
Every ending's a new beginning
One more chance to get it right
One more chance to get it wrong

And it's not over till it's over
Sometimes nowhere leads to somewhere
And it all starts again
It all starts again in the end

And it's such a scary place to be
Everything is in between
I don't know where to go from here
In the end I see it's all up to me
To figure out where I should be
I'm gonna find a way from here

And I don't know where I'll fall down
But I'm sure to hit the ground

'Cause it's not over till it's over
Every ending's a new beginning
One more chance to get it right
One more chance to get it wrong

And it's not over till it's over
Sometimes nowhere leads to somewhere
And it all starts again
Yeah, it all starts again in the end

'Cause it's not over till it's over
Every ending's a new beginning

One more chance to get it right
One more chance to get it wrong

And it's not over till it's over
Sometimes nowhere leads to somewhere
And it all starts again
Yeah, it all starts again in the end, in the end

And it all starts again
And it all starts again
And it all starts again
And it all starts again in the end

But it's such a scary place to be
Everything is in between
I don't know where to go from here
