I am learning to be a father but I really don't know how
To be willing to care for others more than I love myself

It ain't easy learning to love like you

I am learning to love my neighbor and to live by the golden rule
But it's so hard when I've been lied to
I feel like a fool forgiving a fool

It ain't easy learning to love like you

I am learning to be faithful with the little that I have To do like Jesus and turn the tables
To give it all to get nothing back

It ain't easy leaning to love like you
