Another day is ending soon
Throwing hands up to the sky
Will happiness ever resume
Or will the world just pass on by
So tired of waiting for this all to disappear
Sanity can only wait for so long

Life is throwing all it has
All at once again
Just trying hard to hide the pain away
Hoping for the very best
To show up in the end
Before the thread I'm hanging from Decides to break

The stars are black again tonight
Just another restless case
Of hope clearly out of sight
Of never leaving this dark place
I've done the best that I can do
There's not much left to hold on to
While the ground beneath my feet is caving in

Life is throwing all it has
All at once again
Just trying hard to hide the pain away
Hoping for the very best
To show up in the end
Before the thread I'm hanging from Decides to break

Wish I could leave it all
It would be easier than waiting here to fall
Just letting go might be the chance I have to take
Before the thread decides to break

Life is throwing all it has
All at once again
Just trying hard to hide the pain away
Hoping for the very best
To show up in the end
Before the thread I'm hanging from Decides to break
It's gonna break

Break
It's gonna break
