

Jason Walker

"You're missing it"

Visit "You're missing it" on MotoLyrics.com

It's cold again
And I do not know what to do
I need a friend
But all I really want is you
Where have you been?
I haven't seen you for so long
I guess you're gone,
You're really gone.

So long ago
You told me you'd never leave
But do you know?
Things have changed so suddenly
And here I am
I am moving on without you,
Without you.

And now the years have passed us by
And I still do not know why
Before you tried
You chose to quit.
So where are you tonight
You could make everything right
But instead
You're missing it,
You're missing it.

You're missing it
All the things that I have done.
You're missing it
Everything I have become.
So wave goodbye
Cause you can never give it back
No you can't,
You really can't.

Cause now the years have passed us by
And I still do not know why
Before you tried
You chose to quit
So where are you tonight
You could make everything right
But instead
You're missing it
You're missing it

They're will be a day
Where you wish you could go back
Your mistakes
Will catch up with where you're at
Before you know
All your chances will be gone
They wÃll be gone.

Visit Jason Walker page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.