forget her by Jasper Steverlinck
While this town is busy sleeping,
All the noise has died away.
I walk the streets to stop my weeping,
But she'll never change her ways.

Don't fool yourself,
She was heartache from the moment that you met her.
And my heart is so still
As I try to find the will to forget her, somehow.
I think I've forgotten her now.

Her love is a rose, pale and dying.
Dropping her petals in land unknown
All full of wine, the world before her,
Was sober with no place to go.

Don't fool yourself,
She was heartache from the moment that you met her.
My heart is frozen still
As I try to find the will to forget her, somehow.
She's somewhere out there now.

But my tears falling down as I try to forget,
Her love was a joke from the day that we met.
All of her words, all of her men,
all of my pain when I think back to when.

Remember her hair as it shone in the sun,
The smell of the bed when I knew what she'd done.
Tell yourself over and over
You won't ever need her again.

But don't fool yourself,
She was heartache from the moment that you met her.
My heart is frozen still
As I try to find the will to forget her, somehow.
She's out there somewhere now.

Oh she was heartache from the day that I first met her.
My heart is frozen still

As I try to find the will to forget you, somehow.
Cause I know you're somewhere out there right now.
