Im older now and cant get past it
the life i had before was more than i could see
Where were you?x2 (echos)
I just wanted attention but you could only give refusion
i tried to forgett it but it just comes back to me
Where were you when i was helpless?
Where were you when i needed to talk?
Where were you when i was there?
Where were you when i was alone?
Where were you...
How could i ever get past this faze
When all this shit stays in my head and i cant find the key to get it out that i think you stole
Where were you x3(Echos)
(This is my shit i just wrote to my mother)
Where were you when i was helpless?

Where were you when i needed to talk?

Where were you when i was there?

Where were you when i was alone?

Where were you

I never needed to come up to you and ask about my life

you never needed this...this mistake you said i was

How do you expect me to look out for others

when no one looked out for me

I feel this will never go

I took my life step by step

and look at where i am

and look at where i am

Where were you when i was helpless?

Where were you when i needed to talk?

Where were you when i was there?

Where were you when i was alone?

Where were you

Where were you...
