Every time he goes, she dies
Every time she comes, she cries

He was her long, bright future
In the middle of a wrong, dark road
He loved her, but he wasn't too sure
If he could return the love she showed
When she said, my love extends Beyond the realm of being friends
He kissed her head
And quietly he said

It's not that you're not beautiful, you're just not beautiful to me
She said, how beautiful do I have to be?
When I look in the mirror, you're the only thing I see,
And I have loved you beautifully

Well, ten thousand tears passed by
But she never let him see her cry
And he called up down one night
He said, let's get in the car and just drive

He talked a lot about loneliness
But why, she didn't know
And some song about memphis
Was playin' on the radio
She said, let's stop the car and slow dance,
Won't you just give me a chance?
He took her hand
And hoped she'd understand

It's not that you're not beautiful, you're just not
beautiful to me
She said, how beautiful do I have to be?
When I look in the mirror, you're the only thing I see,
And I have loved you beautifully

Well, she'll burn that bridge
And build a house
And swallow the smoke in her mouth
She'll feel the burn

And then make the choice
To put the fire in her voice

It's not that you're not beautiful, you're just not
beautiful to me
She said, how beautiful do I have to be?
When I look in the mirror, you're the only thing I see,
And I have loved you beautifully
