"To The Island"

I'm running away to the island
Going to make me a bet in the sun
I can't seem to stop all the madness
Now I'm fighting like everyone

To give me a break in the concrete
Just you watch me stripping cool
And tell me a hole in this cold gray
City skies you can get better view

Oh, that life sure makes you bored
Oh, I've lost so much before

I'm running away to the island
Yes, I've wouldn't blame time, yeah
Gimme the feel of a long day, slowly
What I've lived through the years

Making me your sweet companion
Laden with all the smiles
We'd be laying us down in the hot sand
Happiness, I forget too much

Hold your arms around me now
Greens and blues surround me now

Hold your arms around me now
Greens and blues surround me now
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

I'm running away to the island, oh, yeah, yeah
I'm running away to the island, oh, yeah, yeah, yeah
I'm taking me my sweet companion
We'd be running away to the island
