Every day of my life is like I'm living a life
Hanging in the role of somebody that's not me
It's like my life is a stage
And I'm a puppet on strings
That's not me, that's not me
And you keep pulling and pulling
But I won't be (sub...?)
Cos I'm not that kinda guy
I'm moving to better things
And now that I've cut my strings
I'm leaving this all behind

You never owned me
Never even got to know me
And now you're saying that you're lonely
I can't hear your cries

You never owned me
Never even got to know me
And now you're saying that you're lonely
I can't hear your cries

So you can take it from me
I know I'm ready to be
Who I am always was now you gotta forget me.
I've had enough of your games
And I've tried my best to change
But I can't be the man you need, so go and forget me
