

Jaya

"New Millenium"

Visit "New Millenium" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm getting older I'm getting smarter Gonna turn that knowledge into dollars
Served enough time on this earth to tell you
When something's changing Usually it's just so they can sell you something new High performance genetically redesigned
It takes cash to keep up with the times
And if you want to stay alive pay attention to these lessons
Cause each passing year it's just planned obsolescence
But it's o.k.
It's o.k. now
Got a salvation solution to the cold
And I'll never get lost again cause I just bought in
To the new millennium

We've got answers for your guilty conscience with no retributions
We're on the phones nationwide just looking for solutions
Cave in, cave out somewhere inside I'm feeling doubt But day in, day out somehow I'm gonna have to work it out
But in a high rise, high above the filth
The promised land just made a promise to someone else
And it's all in the plans, all gods children
Standing in line waiting for a handout Unsatisfied with what we've been given
New product line guaranteed to end your doubt Warm words and smiling faces
They'll be no discontent when the climate changes
And we'll never get lost again cause we just bought in
To the new millennium

Visit Jaya page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.