

Jaya The Cat "Car Crash"

Visit "Car Crash" on MotoLyrics.com

What ever happened to protect and serve
Cos if you get in their way you get burned
And if your looking for justice don't bother
Cos in the eyes of the court your just another fuckin problem
Produce an eye witness
And their just gonna contest that it's a conflict of interest
Either way you walk out empty handed
There ain't no free rides in the land of the stranded
You get no love from the system when your poor
They take what they want and keep coming back for more

Bad luck why fuck is it coming after me?
Car crash in the middle of the street
Bad luck what the fuck are you gonna say?
When there's four fucking cops all up in your face

What ever happened to and justice for all?
Man that ain't nothing but a joke now
Clothslined by the long arm of the law
By some asshole in a black robe thinking that he's god
And if you try to present a defense
You just lie and than they charge you with contempt
System set up to further the rich
It ain't justice, it's just big business
And if you want to get ahead man I hope you got connections
Cause a poor man don't get far in the Babylon system

Visit Jaya The Cat page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.