SAM System homing like a 737 come to take me back home

eh.

Last night on the 2, ride home. I swear man I saw an angel.

But when I looked again man, it was just another stranger.

Last night I saw liquor land, man I had a big mission. 13 horsemen riding on and off wind, so i turn my color to the gold.

Got back in my ride, turn up that stereo.

Man what do you have, that you don't need.

We need it all down here!

Temptation, redemption, the Bottle and the Cross.
Life's illusion, from everything you've done.

And somewhere out there,
I hear a SCREAM!

Last night in brigham circle the devil tried to mug me.
And I said: "Man what do I got, you don't got allready?"
You know he looked up to me and said: "Maybe you're right"

Maybe i got something else for you tonight, he said: "Man what do you need, that you don't own?"
"We got it all down here!"

Temptation, redemption, the Bottle and the Cross.
Life's illusion, from everything you've done.

And somewhere out there over the airwaves,
I hear a SCREAM!

And when the music takes control, it's alright by me.
Ooh another moon rise competing with the lights of the bright city.
Caught between the drum and the baseline, you know it's alright.
