Danger, heartbreak ahead
Look out little fool, you're not wise
Not wise to love so completely
Or fall for that look in his eyes.

Danger, heartbreak ahead
Be sure little heart for you know
Yes you know what happened to you before
There's danger, travel slow

Does his kiss really mean what you think it means
Are the words that he whispers, true
Are you sure you understand, the touch of his hand
Does his touch mean too much to you

Maybe, I could be wrong
But go slow little fool for it's said
That love either finds you, or love either blinds you
To the danger of a heartbreak ahead

Does his kiss really mean what you think it means
Are the words that he whispers, true
Are you sure you understand, the touch of his hand
Does his touch mean too much to you

Maybe, I could be wrong
But go slow little fool for it's said
That love either finds you, or love either blinds you
To the danger of a heartbreak ahead
