(Olson/Louris)

sister cry what you needed bought yourself things you could not use could be some man will come along and claim you could be you'll wind up in another town sister cry, count the stars is many in the sky that passed you by could be up ahead you'll be seeing changes somehow the changes made won't belong to you someone come along and carry you down
(and you called my name)
I was so hungry then
you could not see you
someone come along
(and lay you down)
and you don't talk at all
it's the hardest way
(someone come along)
and carry you down
sister cry, you been mistreated doesn't mean someone won't let you in

this devil's knocking at your door but I could lead them all astray just don't matter what people say
(and you called my name)
I was so hungry then
(someone come along and carry you down)
you could not see you
someone come along
(and lay you down)
and you don't talk at all
it's the hardest way
(someone come along)
as many in the sky that passed you by
could be up ahead you'll be seeing changes

could be up ahead you'll be seeing changes
