Day is done, night is returning
Icy black, the muddy waters
I've gotta know, won't you please tell me?
Sinking like a stone, the icy waters

Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray

Past the house, where first they brought you
Carried you to sleep, protected from harm
And when they're gone, soon be returning
The ones you lived by, they found a foothold

Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray

Like the sweet, sweet breeze that brought you
Left by chance, broke down by your words
What did I know, to ask you to leave me
Evening will die upon my doorstep

Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go

Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray
Take me with you when you go
Each night when I go to bed I pray
