"Long Walk To Never"

it is the dream that i awake from that truly writes this song theres no need for an escape youve never been here all along u were in the caribbean im in ny now thinkin . . .

u say u want me but u never came to get me oh u never got me n i hope u dont haunt these dreams
ever again

now if only i was catharine n u my love were newt we'd be sittin in the orchard with an apple n a flute n a ring danglin but im in londone now singin . . .

u claim to want me but u never came to get me
ever again

those time-stand-stills in soho n brooklyn were lost chances we missed out im lookin for somethin else somewhere else my fren

u say u want me but u never came to get me
ever again

and a long walk to never surely takes forever and ever
