One day ago you spoke to me
You whispered so eloquently
I'm egg-shell walkin'
On the postcard I'll send
What happened

I should've sensed it from the start
Your words were such a work of art
Syllables that broke my heart all over again
What happened

Oh, overnight you changed from kind to cruel
I feel just like a fool
Why should I even pretended a miracle could ever mend
The bitter moments that I spend wondering
What happened

You're like the dream I can't forget
I won't regret we ever met
I'm curious oh I hardly mean to offend
What happened

There's still one piece I can't get straight
A puzzle I have to investigate
I'm usually polite, now I can't pretend
Nothing happened

Oh, darling I don't know where we went wrong
I've been thinking all day long
Is there some way to change your mind?
Like a puzzle piece that I might find

In the words you have not spoken yet
Whisper I promise to let you
Talk your way back to my room
Tell me that you left too soon
Take a hold of my hand
Help me understand
What happened

Cause how could you just go
Without telling me so
Now I'll never know
If our love is meant to be
Darling please listen to me

Listen and you just might Change every wrong back into right
Overnight you changed your mind, you fool
How could you be so cruel?

And why should I even pretend a miracle could Ever lend a moment where I do not spend life
Wondering if what happened since then would happen again
What happened since then
