every single time

every single time I see you theres a feeling inside that I can't get of my mind your more then words I can say from the heart theres no fears in my life but to loose you

every single time
I hear you, I wanna be there to join in every single time your there I just want to love you more then anyone else in this world

I close my eyes then I hear the wispers I was never heard like you, you just get out there' and do it right every single time I hear you I feel I need to cry it's just some part of you in every single way I can most of all love, the most

then anyone else in the world every single time, Your there i want to close my eyes' and hope more an more that you never ever fade away Because you are more then words can say from the heart

I close my eyes then I hear the wispers
I was never heard like you,

every single time, I'm there with you

I get the huge feeling around me and it's like a mystery I can't say but every single time your there I feel strong enough to do anythink every single time I hear you, I feel I need to cry it's a moment to remember ohh yeah ohh yeah ohoh yeah

one thing I know is that you never fade no matter what your stronger then anythink I know" here

and it's like a mystery I can't say

I just wanna be there' every single time.
