Let it go Let it go
I can't do much anymore
I don't know what's with me,
I don't even know whos on my side.....
Of this challaening life

i've tried to convince myself I'm ok I've cried my eyes out now since You've turned around and changed your mind
And left me with the world against me
I thought I knew you I thought we could be come real chorus It's difficult to get someone to understand the reason why I feel So wrapped up in myself and hurt inside,

I can't let it go Now you've turned around
And left me with the world against me

I can't let it go You've Broke my heart
and left me with the world against me

you never really cared did you?
You never thought of me unless I was with you

So many emotions inside, I'm going crazy let me free from this crazy you

I've tried to much I've thought to hard Nothings making sense now can i go out I've cried my eyes out now you've turned around to someone else
And changed your mind and left me with the world against me.
