There when I need him
There when I need him
That's all that matters
There when I'm fed up
Holding my head up
When everything shatters

Someone to lean on
Really rely on
A shoulder to cry on
No muscled Adonis
With vine leaves in his hair
But there when I need him
There

To determine what I've left
Is Juno all alone?
If the sole communication
Was by mail or telephone

Delilah might have been
No friend of Sam's
If he always had
To send her telegrams
The workable relationship
Must be with someone you can
Touch, and hold, and see
And so I found
The perfect man for me

For, he is there when I need him
There when I need him
That's all that matters
There

Someone to lean on
Really rely on
A shoulder to cry on
No muscled Adonis
With vine leaves in his hair

But, love when I need him

Love when I need him
Love when I need him
There
