If you could look through the eyes that have been there
Then you'd see what I'm trying to tell you
And you'd know that no one's love could ever hold him
Cause he goes from heart to heart and fool to fool
When you get you'll know him just a little better
Then you'll find out what I'm telling you is true
And I'll promise you you'll start to die a little
As he goes from heart to heart and fool to fool
[piano]
He has everything that any girl could wish for but he doesn't live by anybody's room
And these words that I say will out of meaning
As he goes from heart to heart and fool to fool
When you get you'll know him...
