

Jean Shepard "Mysteries Of Life"

Visit "Mysteries Of Life" on MotoLyrics.com

So many beautiful stories are told
Of love and affection, that's purer than gold
They meet and they love, and he makes her his wife
And wife can't last this a mystery of life

I love you, my darling I've always been true
Wherever you go I'll be thinking of you
You say you don't want me, you wish to be free
If that's what you want that's the way it will be

It's a mystery of life 'cause someone so sweet
Can pass you aside to be dirt at their feet
They'll take you and court you and make you their wife
And wife can't last this a mystery of life

When daddy told mother, "Till death do us part"
He said it and meant it right from the heart
But now it is different, how people have changed
The words of the Bible, it don't mean a thing

God made the ocean, the land and the trees
He made the flowers, the birds and the bees
Why He first missed all this trouble and strife
That is just one of the mysteries of life
It's a mystery of life [unverified]

Visit Jean Shepard page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.