Refugees yo.. all you say

[Wyclef Jean]

Dirty Dirty Dirty South

I used to play while at the YMCA, in L.A.

Sold my first A-K

I saw her man get murdered on Sunday, Bloody Sunday

(What about Texas?) They need to chill with the gun play

(New York city y'all) Police are at the door the Magnum was by the ashtray

(Look at shorty y'all) He bout to go out like Scarface
He woke up in a cardboard box with no space with Thug Angels singin, sayin

[background harmonizing - repeat 2X]

{uh-huhhh uh-huhhh, ahh-ahh-ahh-ahhhh-ahhh-ahhh-
-uhhh-huhhh uh-huhhh..}

[Wyclef Jean - (over harmonizing)]

So you wanna be a thug?

To all my thugs in Houston, you wan' push drugs?

To all my thugs in Memphis, you want the cars in the videos?

To the Jacksonville Thug Angels, let me tell you how it really goes

[Wyclef Jean]

I'm on the highway with a black bandana, headed to Atlanta

Until I heard WOOP WOOP, that "Sound of Da Police", should I pull over?

He had the dark shades on, but he ain't look like Stevie
Wonder

His face was, pale and long - he looked like cold day in December

Now let me ask the truth or somethin - should I slow down and be a good camper?

I heard a young thug scream,

"It depends what you got in the beamer!!"

Now I got two choices I could blast and become Most Wanted in America
Or I could slow down like the man in the Bronco and get Johnny Cochran to be my lawyer
Ohh Sonya, hit her on the Motorola
If I get locked up I ain't getting out 'til Tuesday
Cause this is Saturday, and it's a holiday
Now I got to spend a week hangin in the South in jail but you told me that crime pay

So you wanna be a thug?
My thugs in Chicago, you wan' push drugs?
My thugs in Orlando, you want the cars in the videos?
To V-A and D.C., St. Louis, Miami

[Wyclef Jean]
So you a killer, how many people did you kill?
You a dealer, how many drugs did you deal-a?
For'realla, used to sell crack on the hill-a Yeah right! My name is Elvis and your wife is Pricilla
You're an ACTOR, you need a part in this thrilla
Hold up, ain't no need to bust your four-fifth-a It's two of use, one of use is bound to leave in a coma
So say your prayers, and give my regards to the undertaker
