(Erwin King - Harry Carlson)

No one ever lost more than I lost when I lost you
No one ever lost more when you left for someone new
She meant more to you than me so you told me starry eyed
Leaving my heart to cry tears as you walked from my side.

Goodbye to heaven was all that I could say
As I heard your footsteps softly fade away
But if you should lose her heart then you'll know what
I've been through
And you'll know how much love I lost when you left and
I lost you.

Goodbye to heaven was all that I could say
As I heard your footsteps softly fade away
But if you should lose her heart then you'll know what
I've been through
And you'll know how much love I lost when you left and I lost you...
