Haunted haunted haunted
Haunted haunted haunted

Did the clock strike thirteen and I imaging things
It must be late but I sit here in the gloom
A voice seems to call I must be dreaming
That's all there's no one here but a solitary fool
Still I'm haunted by your love heavens above
I can't hide from this feeling way down inside
I guess I learned something how to get myself straight
Till then I'm haunted by your love heavens above
Haunted by your love haunted by your love

I'm blinded by tears ever since you disappeared
Hoping we rarely loved or am I losing my mind too
Shivers down my spine it's kind of scary
Each time I feel the ghost that once was you
Still I'm haunted by your love heavens above
I can't hide from this feeling way down inside
I guess I learned something how to get myself straight
Till then I'm haunted by your love heavens above
Haunted by your love haunted by your love

Haunted haunted haunted
Haunted haunted haunted

Haunted by your love heavens above
I can't hide from this feeling way down inside
I guess I learned something how to get myself straight
Oh I'm haunted by your love heavens above Haunted by your love haunted by your love haunted by your love

(Haunted by your love)
Haunted by your love
(Haunted by your love)
Yeah
(Haunted by your love)
Haunted by your love
(Haunted by your love)
