

Jeff Black"Misty Morning Dream"

Visit "Misty Morning Dream" on MotoLyrics.com

Misty Morning Dream

I want to run past the old tree line past the farmers field and the old grapevine where shadows fall on a diamond dew in a misty morning dream of you where the african violets have a place to hide where the hollow lays low and so do I waiting for my rose to bloom

in a misty morning dream of you in the light of the day the world seems right in the deep woods shade streams of light shine on me and my aim is true

in a misty morning dream of you

I can see past the rise and fall of a foolish heart that wants it all I'm a simple man and i don't want much just to see your face and to feel your touch but I know that may never be see there's nobody here but me I'm kind of happy and I'm kind of blue

in a misty morning dream of you in a misty morning dream sometimes we're far away and hard to find my life is in line and the world is new

in a misty morning dream of you

Lyrics and Music written by Jeff Black Warner / Tamerlane Music Publishing BMI

Visit Jeff Black page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.