

Jeff Black

"Waiting"

Visit "Waiting" on MotoLyrics.com

Waiting

well I don't suppose that any of my raving ever did any good and I'm learning now a quiet answer turns the wrath away like you said it would and finally I'm out of the red and into the blue waiting here until they clear the road ahead so I can move on through across the delta plains it was freezing rain east and west all four lanes were down so I got out and walked a little while up between the cars about a quarter mile and took a look around there were families and refugees wondering too waiting here until they clear the road ahead

so I can move on through

day fell to night until the world renown thousand thoughts came tumbling down again how it seems to be now it's all a blur what we know and who we were back then we were vagabonds and all those gypsy songs we knew
waiting here until they clear the road ahead
so I can move on through

Music & Lyrics by Jeff Black copyright 2011 Lotos Nile Music

Visit Jeff Black page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.