Sometimes I look back on these 30 some odd years, countin' the twists and turns that slowly led me here I think I have the answers to a lot that I've lived through but one thing I cant explain is how I wound up with you.

Chorus:

'Cuz I ain't this smart, ain't this lucky to have a woman like you love me don't make sense, just doesn't add up, but the hand of fate had a velvet touch wonder what did I do to justify you wantin' to share my life oh whoa whoa where did I go so right

I've relived the night we met at least a million times tryin' to recreate that moment in my mind the band started playin', so I asked you for a dance all of the while I was thinkin' I'll never have a chance

Chorus:

don't make sense, just doesn't add up,

oh whoa whoa where did I go whoa whoa where did I go
mmhmm, where did I go so right
