You turn the night into a sunrise
You melt my heart with every touch
You turn the tide when every hope seems lost
You hold us all within Your hands

From eternity to eternity
You preside over all in Your majesty
You have purchased me, You loved me jealously
You abide in our hearts ever more

You turn the hearts of kings and kingdoms
You're reaching out to every child
You turn a light to every darkened soul
You hold us all within Your hands

From eternity to eternity
You preside over all in Your majesty
You have purchased me, You loved me jealously
You abide in our hearts ever more

You spoke a word and made the heavens
You broke the power of sin and death
No other god can now oppose You, Lord
You hold us all within Your hands
You hold us all within Your hands
You hold us all within Your hands

From eternity to eternity
You preside over all in Your majesty
You have purchased me, You loved me jealously
You abide in our hearts

From eternity to eternity
You preside over all in Your majesty
You have purchased me, You loved me jealously
You abide in our hearts
You abide in our hearts
You abide in our hearts ever more
