Living it up just the best I can
Some day I gotta be a man
You don't gotta grow up but you gotta grow old
I've been told, I've been told
I remember days, days when I went down
Sometimes life is better when there's no one else around
It's alright to be alone sometimes
You don't need to argue and you don't need to fight

Let it all out I said let it all out and everything will be fine tonight
It used to be so easy to keep you satisfied
To keep that smile on your face all I had to do was lie
Something had to change something deep inside
Whatever it was that kept me going it had to die
