Words & music by Jen Foster

I'm lost when memories are all I have to breathe
I'm lost when endings are always just beginning
Where did you go? All that I know
Is I loved you way too much
Everybody goes, everybody leaves you
There's no one you can own and no one you could pay
Everyone's alone and there's nothing to believe in
And nothing you can do and nothing you can say
You're gone like oceans of love all blown out to sea
You're gone like everyone who's ever come to me
Now here I am, without you I can't See myself go on
Everybody goes, everybody leaves you
There's no one you can own and no one you could pay
Everyone's alone and there's no one to believe in
And nothing you can do and nothing you can say
Give me a moment to prepare myself
Give me a moment to put on a better face
Give me a moment to collect myself
As you walk away
Everybody goes, everybody goes
Everybody goes away
Everybody goes, everybody leaves you
There's no one you can own and no one you could pay
Everyone's alone and there's no one to believe in
