Everyone who know me I'm sorry
I can't resist all of these things
Coz I'm just a human
With a sense of humanity

I'm sure you can understand me
You wake me up
When my own selfishness is burning your heart
You never stop teaching me how to love
Even though my own heart want it all to stop
If we still continue this kind of life
I'm sure it will wreck your whole life

What's so special from me?
What did I do for you?
Until you say that you dedicate your whole life to me
Whose the loser behind our useless relationship?
Is it you?
Or is it me?
