Visit "Darkness" on MotoLyrics.com

Looking down on everything from this altitude
I can see for miles, it's vast and free and blue
The words that left your body echo like a drum
Silence is a shadow now, I'd like to get me some

Darkness, darkness
I know you'll shine again
If you make the climb

You could weave a melody play it out with ease
You found your perfect audience and brought me to my knees
But everything is quite now, everything is changed
Everything you gave to me I'll give it back again

Darkness, darkness
I know you'll shine again
If you make the climb

When time has worked its magic ways
And everything that's broken flies away
I'll look up at the evening sky
And I'll smile again
