Don't bury me deep under ground son Don't cast me out to sea Scatter me up in the south wind blowin' Let every where be where I be

Ill be around each corner Above, along side and beneath Won't miss me cause I'm still right here yeah the world carries me,

Carries me on yeah the world carries me Carries me on I'll be right here, listen

Just leave me high up on a mountain Where elements break me down I want to return to where I came from And nourish the seeds I've sawn

This way I am always closer I'm standing right by your side everywhere your gonna be baby yeah the world still carries me

carries me on yeah the world carries me I'm still right here yeah the world carries me carries me on

Carry on just like the sun sets then its dawn III keep coming up in conversation

Feels like I'm there but it's vacant, my place still my soul carries, my soul carries III be, always, there just like the starlight sweep through, your dreams everytime you feel like aaaah my soul carries, the world carries me on

Carry on Carry on just like the river I flow
Over mountains then into the ocean
Ain'tt lost im here
You just cant see my face
Still my soul carries, my soul carries

I'll be always There just like the sunrise Can't forget me Cause morning will remind oooh my soul carries me on the world carries me on carries me on X3

Don't bury me deep under ground son Don't cast me out to sea, nooo Scatter me up in the south wind blowin' Let every where be where I be

This way I am always closer I'm standing right by your side everywhere your gonna be baby yeah the world still carries me

Carries me on yeah the world carries me I'm still right here yeah the world carries me Carries me on
