The first time I held you close in my arms
I was sure our love could survive any storm
I wish I could say I still felt the same
And what's causing these blues is only the rain
But

CHORUS

It isn't just raining
It's really coming down
The sun's not just hiding
It can't be found
And I'm more than just lonely
Tonight while you're running 'round
It isn't just raining
It's really coming down

Each time I look out for a sign this will pass
All I see are tears on my face in the glass
'Cause you're out with her and I'm here alone
When you get back this time I'll be gone 'cause

REPEAT CHORUS

It isn't just raining
It's really coming down
