This is your last ride home
This is your last ride home
This is your last ride home
This is your last ride home

Sleep, mother, rest your eyes
Let the world pass you by
Sleep, mother rest your eyes
Evening will fall by and by

The trees they will bow and sway
As we slowly make our way
The trees they will bow and sway
I've got the wheel today

You'll not see the deepening shade
Your favorite oaks will have made
You'll not see the deepening shade
Nor hear the birds' accolade

This is your last ride home
This is your last ride home
This is your last ride home
This is your last ride home
