The harbor lies still in Argentina.
It captured my heart today.
Your father and you sing a late night song and you turn

Take one step, come towards me
If I asked you would you take one step?
You can lead.
Let my hand go in yours.
Don't look sideways, don't look sideways.
Take me along, and we will dance.

Your opening, more of a question.

Better to keep it that way.
The look on your face when you opened the door after midnight said

Take one step, come towards me
If I asked you would you take one step?
You can lead.
Let my hand go in yours.
Don't look sideways, don't look sideways.
Take me along, and we will dance.
