"Everybody's Girl"

[verse 1:]

Let's play a game
Let's just pretend like you don't know who I am
Believe it if you say that you're not a fan
Act like I'm interested in some other man

Turn on the lights
So that the cameras flashing won't be so bright
And let the crowd ain't getting big outside
They're wanting details on how I live my life

[pre-chorus:]

There's no escape from the fame
To somewhere they don't know my name
I love you I do feel your pain
But the question still remain

[chorus:]

Can you love somebody loved by everybody?
Can you love somebody when they're everybody's girl?
Can you love somebody loved by everybody?
Can you love somebody when they're everybody's girl?
Can you love the, can you love the, can you love the
girl?
Can you love the, can you love the, can you love the
girl?
Can you love the, can you love the, can you love the
girl?
Can you love her, can you love her, can you love her?

[verse 2:]

Out through the back
Too many people blocking the front door
We go our different ways so we want more
Another gig I got in until four

[repeat pre-chorus]

[repeat chorus]

[bridge:]

I love it, I love it
Cool as summercool
I'm flying and I love it
She just wants to be seen

Can you hang on to a shooting star
Handle distance near and far
Don't let the jealousy and envy get to you
Cause I'll be running home right back to you

[repeat chorus]

Can you love the, can you love the, can you love the girl?
