Give me 'til morning
To kiss you goodbye
The love I've been living
Has been years of lies
And you know I could hurt you
But it's the last thing I want to do
But there's someone who's waiting
Someone who I love too
Kiss me so slowly
For this has to end
And please please believe me
As lips part again
This is hard and I've tried
I did the best that I could
And if I could have stopped him
If I could have stopped him I would
But here in the darkness
As the morning light breaks
There's no more excuses
And no more that I can take
But here in the darkness
As the morning light breaks
I must get past your eyes
'Cause all I see is his face
Give me 'til morning
To kiss you goodbye
And please please believe me
When I said that I tried
And the touch of your fingers
As my hand slips on through
Is the love I'll be taking
The last I'll be taking of you
